

KOSOVO

CENTER FOR ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND EXECUTIVE DEVELOPMENT (CEED)

Quick Facts

In Kosovo, USAID's Center for Entrepreneurship and Executive Development helps entrepreneurs network and build business capacity.

Results to date:

- Recruited 20 mentors with experience in sales, marketing, human resource management, banking and finance, quality management, and other relevant areas. Mentors will share their long-standing experience with participants.
- Conducted four learning events on the following topics: leadership, strategies for business growth, human resources for managers, and finance for entrepreneurs.
- Organized a business-to-business networking event with Macedonian and Kosovo companies in order to build partnerships and create networks and contacts with other companies. Sixty companies and other institutions from Kosovo and Macedonia participated.

The Program:

USAID/Kosovo's Center for Entrepreneurship and Executive Development (CEED) seeks to accelerate growth of small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and foster Kosovo's entrepreneurial culture by delivering executive training courses and networking events. CEED's main goal is to strengthen SME leadership teams and entrepreneurs.

Beneficiaries:

CEED's target group are young entrepreneurs who have begun their own business or/and are top level managers.

How Entrepreneurs Benefit:

Entrepreneurs receive mentoring and practical capacity building, and attend networking events.
